DRY RULING AIDS SUFFRAGE

HIGHEST COURT UPHOLDS O.K. BY LEGISLATURES

Referendum in Ohio
Is Ruled Out.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—Another hope of the "wet" antagonists of national prohibition went glimmering today when the United States Supreme court decided that ratification of a constitutional amendment is not subject to submission to a popular referendum.

Ratification by any state legislature of the eighteenth amendment establishing national prohibition cannot be revoked by a vote of the people upon submission of the legislature's action to a referendum, the court holds, for ratification is the function of no agency but the legislature.

The Ohio legislature ratified the prohibition amendment and as it was the thirty-sixth state to ratify the federal secretary of state proclaimed the amendment adopted by the requisite three-fourths of the states. Subsequently Ohio, in a referendum of the question, voted against ratification of the amendment.

Suffrage Gains by Decision.

Under the decision of the Supreme court the Ohio referendum was unconstitutional and therefore without validity, so ratification by the Ohio legislature and by three-fourths of the states stands valid as of the date the proclamation was issued.

The decision also removes what might have been an obstacle to ratification of the nineteenth amendment, enfranchising women before the presidential election. The Ohio legislature ratified the suffrage amendment, but a referendum was being sought and it was in reversing the Ohio Supreme court's dismissal of injunction proceeding against such referendum that the United States Supreme court rendered its opinion today.

Constitutionality Not Decided.

There will be no referendum now on the suffrage, prohibition or other constitutional amendment in Ohio or any other state. With Ohio, thirty-five states have ratified the suffrage amendment and only one more state is needed. North Carolina is expected to furnish the thirty-sixth vote when its legislature meets in July.

The Supreme court did not decide the question of the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment raised by New Jersey and Rhode Island, and this decision is now looked for next Monday.

The contention, however, that the Ohio referendum invalidated the Ohio legislature's ratification and that ratification by eleven other states would not be valid unless upheld by popular referendum constituted a major feature of the attack on the amendment in the arguments before the Supreme court.

Part of Text of Decision.

"The determination of the method of ratification is the exercise of a national power specifically granted by the constitution," said the court today. "That power is conferred upon congress and is limited to the two methods by action of the legislatures of three-fourths of the states or conventions in a like number of states. The framers of the constitution might have adopted a different method. Ratification might have been left to the vote of the people, or to some authority of government other than that selected. The language of the article is plain and admits of no doubt in its interpretation. It is not the function of courts or legislative bodies, national or state, to alter the method which the constitution has fixed."

Not Properly "Legislation."

The argument to support the power of the state to require the approval by the people of the state of the ratification of amendments to the federal constitution through the medium of a referendum rests upon the proposition that the federal constitution requires ratification by the legislative action of the states through the medium provided at the time of the proposed approval of an amendment. This argument is fallacious in this—ratification by the state of a constitutional amendment is not an act of legislation within the proper sense of the word. It is the expression of the assent of the state to a proposed amendment.

"It is true the power to legislate in the enactment of the laws of a state is derived from the people of the state, and the power to ratify a proposed amendment to the federal constitution lies in the federal constitution."

The act of ratification by the state derives its authority from the federal constitution to which the state and its people have alike assented.

"Any other view might lead to endless confusion in the manner of ratification of federal amendments."

WEDS DYING GIRL AS TRAGEDY ENDS LOVE BEYOND LAW

Bride, Victim of Shot,
Meets Death Smiling.

Viola Carpenter and Robert M. Taylor were married last night in the Lakeside hospital. The girl was dying from a bullet wound. The man was under guard of the police. When the priest had finished the man went back to his cell, weeping, and the bride died with a smile.

This was the end of their romance that began two years ago in Akron, O., where Taylor was employed. Viola, an orphan, had been living with some relatives in Cedarville, Ind., but had left them and gone looking for work.

"I came upon her when she was all but starved and very tired," said Taylor. "I loved her at first glance and she loved me. I promised to marry her."

ington became an active contender when his presidential headquarters were opened in rooms 1172 to 1176 right in the center of Presidential row. A "Poindexter special" is bringing a heavy complement of Poindexter boosters from the northwest that will get to Chicago Sunday morning. A second train will bring 300 Poindexter men from Seattle.

Senator Poindexter himself will arrive in Chicago June 4. The point insisted upon in the center of the Poindexter camp was that the Washington delegates are for their second term, last, and all the time. George H. Walker, of Seattle has been named to place Senator Poindexter in nomination.

Wait for "Breakup."

The report recently circulated that the Washington delegation will merely give a "favorite son" vote to the senator and then transfer their support to another candidate is utterly without foundation," said an official Poindexter statement.

"The Washington men expect that Senator Poindexter stands the best show as a compromise candidate, and he will furnish the real rallying point for delegates when the big breakup comes."

The "breakup" and its probable time of arrival during the balloting next week is what is worrying every presidential manager and his lieutenants. Pending the settlement of the contests at the Coliseum there is a notable reticence among the claim makers. Everything is quiet, however, excepting of the lines in all of the camps.

The drive toward Gov. Lowden among the "unpledged and uncommitted" delegates continued at top strength and night-came with the Lowden leaders in the most optimistic frame of mind since the clams began to gather. The good state managers came in on every trainful of pep and gusto, and, after reporting to headquarters went into action, apparently set on the conviction that Gen. Wood is to be nominated.

"There is nothing to this first ballot stuff," was the Wood campaign slogan. "We will win on the nominating ballot, whether it is the first or the fifteenth."

Johnson's Arrival Awaited.

The Johnson headquarters made it plain that the California's real campaign begins until the senator arrives tomorrow.

"Then is when the real business opens," said the Johnson spokesman.

"He will demonstrate conclusively to the delegates that he can surely be elected, if nominated. That is what they want to know and the inevitable result will be his nomination."

The committee, however, is about ready to show in all of their choicest the Auditorium theater meeting Monday night that Senator Johnson and Senator Borah will address.

About all that remains to be settled for the convention preliminaries by the rival presidential headquarters is the announcement of their floor leaders. All of the men have been nominated in their place and are in formal nomination except Gov. Lowden's spokesman. The Illinois selection will be made this afternoon, it is expected.

LOWDEN FOURTH BALLOT VICTOR OUT ON MIDWAY

Gov. Lowden was returned the victory last night in the mock presidential nominating convention of University of Chicago students, held at Mandel hall. He was nominated on the fourth ballot.

Gov. Goodrich of Indiana was chairman. The speech placing Gov. Lowden's name on the convention ballot was made by A. G. Hendrick. Miss Elizabeth Walker made the seconding speech. Other co-eds who participated were Gaea Falconer, Ruth McAlfe, and Ruth Bowra.

CONTEST HEARING SLOWS UP WITH 127 UNDECIDED

Committee Acts on Suffrage Question.

The "spotlight" sessions of the Republican national committee, which is hearing southern delegate contests at the Coliseum, developed so many fine spun arguments yesterday that little progress was made toward settling the contests.

"The Washington men expect that Senator Poindexter stands the best show as a compromise candidate, and he will furnish the real rallying point for delegates when the big breakup comes."

HAYS PICKS MAN TO HELP WOMEN PREPARE PLANKS

Social Events Arranged for Delegates' Wives.

The representative women of the Republican party who have been called to attend the women's caucus on Sunday, June 6, will be aided by Capt. Victor Heintz, who has been appointed by Chairman Will H. Hays to assist the women in drafting the plans which they will present to the Republican convention for participation of the suffragists in the control of the party.

Mrs. Mary Garrett Hay, who called the caucus for Sunday, was yesterday in conference with Capt. Heintz, central regional director, and it was learned that he will address the caucus in an endeavor to obtain a compromise between the conservative and more radical groups of women.

Open Headquarters Thursday.

The women's division of the national Republican committee will open its new headquarters in the Opera club, room 144, at the Auditorium hotel on Thursday, and will greet the delegates from these headquarters.

A get-acquainted luncheon today on the pine room of the Stratford hotel will bring all the members of the national Hoover committee into closer touch. F. K. Copeland, permanent chairman of the Hoover headquarters, and his co-workers will be the hosts.

When Senator Johnson arrives from Cleveland tomorrow he will be met at the station by an array of delegations, including Johnson for President buttons. The reception will follow at the Johnson headquarters in the Auditorium hotel.

Mrs. Johnson, who is described as the senator's only campaign manager, will come with him.

Wood Women Entertain.

The women of the Leonard Wood hospitality committee are arranging a great many luncheons, teas and dinners for the entertainment of women delegates, delegations and guests.

Robert McCormick is sending out invitations for a tea at the Stratford Monday afternoon, June 7, at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. H. E. Bylesby will entertain

Leonard Wood women delegates and alternates at luncheon at the Auditorium Wednesday, June 8.

Mrs. Alice Grange and Mrs. Chancery are in charge of the entertainment committee, and with Mrs. Marshall Field III, and Mrs. D. E. Dore are among those who will extend hospitality to the Wood delegates.

Many prominent Lake Forest residents attended a Hoover political rally last night in the Anderson hall, Lake Forest. Mrs. James Morrison and Prof. Bertram Nelson were the speakers.

Women Just Won't Believe Those Campaign Fund Tales

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

THE purse strings of the Republican convention are held by the men.

"Just like in the home," the women say. "We read about the wild expenditures of the candidates. Well, the cost of anything else comes up, who, not the cost of primaries?"

But the women are the frugal ones to whom the men owe a debt of gratitude. We are allowed a stipulated amount monthly, and it is gone before the month is half over."

It was the same song at all headquarters, except those of Mr. Hoover.

"He's perfectly lovely," said the women who are trying to help him to be president. "As a political husband he is a jewel."

"He says what he wants," said Mrs. James W. Morrison; "tells us what we must do to get it, and the women like him for that."

Mrs. Rose C. Bryant of Los Angeles, director of the Los Angeles Woman's club, and representative from the club federation's largest organization, the Friday Morning Club of Los Angeles, which is working for Johnson, said: "Well, I haven't time to eat today. I think I shall walk down the hall and smell the Hoover tables."

The women have planned cleverly to reach the politicians through their wives, so the visiting wives of the Republican delegates are to have a perfectly lovely time.

The women are to have a lobbying committee chosen for their logic, to be on duty Sunday and on through the days of the convention, at the Congress and Auditorium hotels, and will go to and from the convention to bring delegations. Among the staff to be on duty are Gen. Wood, living at Fort Sheridan and coming to the headquarters each day to do her bit—without pay.

The women have planned cleverly to reach the politicians through their wives, so the visiting wives of the Republican delegates are to have a perfectly lovely time.

The women are to have a lobbying committee chosen for their logic, to be on duty Sunday and on through the days of the convention, at the Congress and Auditorium hotels, and will go to and from the convention to bring delegations. Among the staff to be on duty are Gen. Wood, living at Fort Sheridan and coming to the headquarters each day to do her bit—without pay.

WILLIE BRYAN TO FEEL SLIPPER OF 'MA' DEMOCRACY

Frisco Convention Will Be Woodshed for Him.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT
Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special]—Take it from the Wilson Democrats who are rallying around the tag of administration loyalty: William Jennings Bryan has about as much chance at the San Francisco convention as an American has in Mexico.

"Get Bryan and get him quick," is the order that has gone out from the mobilized Wilson forces, who are determined to obliterate him. There is every indication that they have control of the convention machinery and the staff officers are told to hold a word from the commander in chief to the press bureaus with barrels one loaded for his opposition to the president's treaty policy and the other for his insistence upon stirring up another fuss over the dead and gone demon rum.

Bryan to Be Squelched.

Plans for the Bryan taking-off are known to have been the subject of grave discussion at the cabinet meeting today with the president one of the interested participants. After the cabinet session, devoted, it is said, almost exclusively to political issues involved in the issues were the ones when the word of what happened had been passed along from the staff to the line officers, a well defined idea of what Bryan has coming to him at the Golden Gate was garnered for publication.

According to the account of the preparedness measures undertaken by the administration, the sharp shooters have all been armed and the "Frizzle boy" from the Plate is doomed "as soon as he sticks" his head above the anti-administration trenches.

As some of Bryan's most vehement Democratic opponents have put it, in discussing the forthcoming tragedy confidentially, the former secretary of state is going to be crucified on his cross of treaty ratification with results of "treachery and butchery with his 'dry' crew" that will jammed down hard on his own brow.

Following his conference yesterday with Homer Cummings, Democratic national chairman and keynoter for the convention, the president took the cabinet members into his confidence today on the political phase of things as he sees it. The determination that there shall be no deviation from the Wilson policy of insistence upon treaty ratification and nullifying reservations was declared to have met with unanimous cabinet approval.

Let John Bartholomew Sleep.

The determination also that the liquor issue should be left alone also was approved, perhaps not unanimously, but overwhelmingly. Secretary Daniels, it is believed, would be satisfied to have the party incorporate Bryan's dry enforcement plank in the platform, but the "more practical minded" members of the cabinet think it would be wise to let the subject alone on the theory that the issue is decided out of the party and that it is not going in on the poor "wets."

The cabinet, it is understood, did not talk about candidates, but it is generally understood that President Wilson's name will not be presented to the convention as a candidate for the nomination. What is wanted is a good Wilson Democrat who will stand out boldly for ratification of the peace treaty and league covenant in the fight before the people over that issue in the campaign.

The convention plans call for a great Wilsonian demonstration. Chairman Cummings' keynote speech is to be a tribute to the president, the like of which has not been sounded in American political forums in many years. The president will be pictured as a martyr to the cause of world democracy and peace, being cruelly persecuted by political enemies.

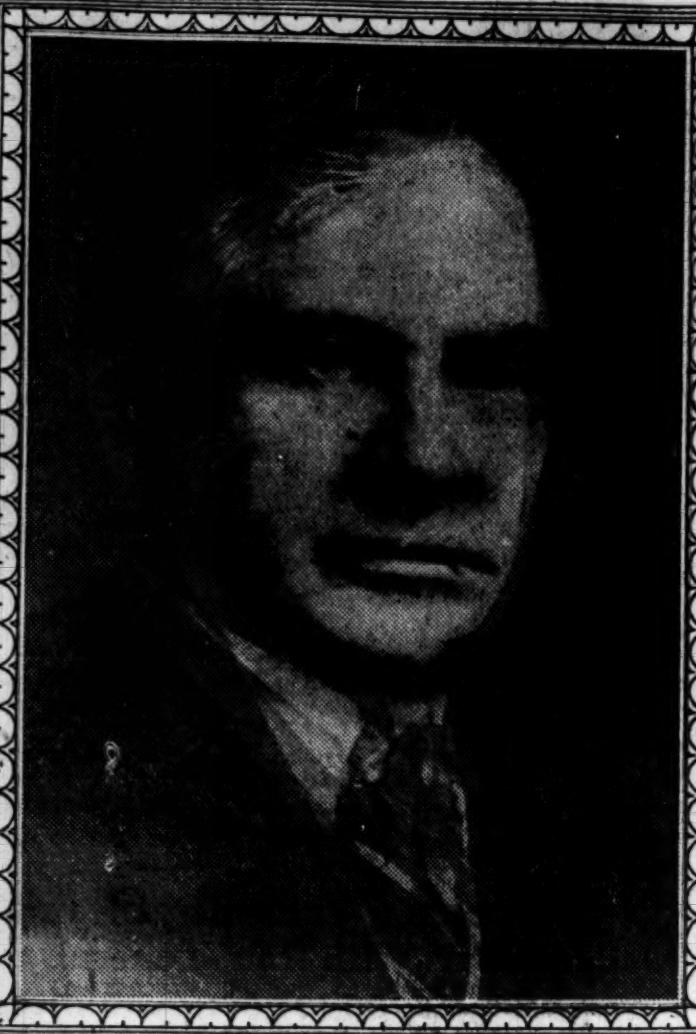

REAL WORK ON PLATFORM WILL START SUNDAY

The real business of construction of the Republican national platform is to begin Sunday morning, when the main body of United States senators, representatives, and party leaders are gathered at the preliminary work has been performed by the advisory committee on platform and politics that has been working since last February.

The adjournment of congress for the convention recess is set for Saturday, and practically the entire Republican membership of both houses will be present. The first substantial platform conference will start Saturday as to the chairman of the resolutions committee, centers, of the time around the name of Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, but inside leaders said yesterday that no definite decision will be made Sunday.

The resolutions committee will be deluged with propositions of all sorts, kinds, and descriptions, as usual.

"The Republican Nominee"

A Composite Photograph.

The wise ones in political dodepot having been left completely up in the air, so to speak, by the ambiguous prophecy of Mme. Sybiline Bellangier, the Hungarian seer, THE TRIBUNE comes to their aid this morning with a photographic parachute by means of which they may again get their feet on solid ground without too great a risk.

"It" argued the photographer, "this Hungarian lady puts a prophetic description that does not seem to fit for you the next president. Who is he? He is the strong features of Gov. Frank O. Lowden, the martial countenance of Gen. Leonard Wood, the business ability of Herbert C. Hoover, the fiery energy of Hiram Johnson, the oratorical power of Robert M. La Follette, the solidity of Gov. William C. Sproul, the statesmanship of Senator Miles Poindexter, and the austere ness of Senator Warren G. Harding.

And just as the picture was finished, up dashed a belated courier from the east.

"We got your man," he panted breathlessly. "He answers the Hungarian lady's description to the last letter. He's Gov. Coolidge. He is blond, slightly bald, surrounded by fine children, wears glasses, and is popular in the east, where he is guarded day and night by detectives because of attempts on his life since he broke the Boston police strike last summer."

"What do you get that stuff?" asked the photographer. "Does this look like Coolidge?"

The courier scratched his chin. "No," he admitted. "It looks like— it looks like—"

Well, if you know whom it looks like, you'll win your convention bet.

PURELY PERSONAL, AND NONFACTUAL

Considerable speculation has been aroused along presidential row by the mysterious actions of John T. King, national committeeman from Connecticut, and delegate manager of the Connecticut Wood campaign. Within the last twenty-four hours he has held prolonged conferences with Gov. Lowden, with Col. William Cooper Proctor, G. W. Cooper campaign manager, and with Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles. Senator John's representative, he declined to divulge what was discussed at the conferences. All that the other conference would say is that they did not know his attitude.

Senatorial speaking, the most democratic personage here is T. Coleman Du Pont, who is a millionaire. He wears soft collars and negligee shirts. They are more economical than the old-fashioned starched kind. Mr. Du Pont explained.

Mrs. Christine Bradley South will arrive tomorrow. She is from Frankfort, Ky., and is the delegate at large from that state. She succeeded Mrs. Medill McCormick as chairman of the women's division of the Republican national committee. She is a cousin of Edwin P. Morrow, governor of Kentucky.

The farthest north delegate to the convention arrived yesterday, and registered at the Sherman. He is G. S. Hazlett of Cordova, Alaska, which is some 1,500 miles north of Seattle, latitude 61, almost opposite Petropavlovsk. In the winter solstice the temperature drops to 40, 50, sometimes 75, below zero.

There is only one presidential candidate, so far as known, who has two official headquarters—Herbert C. Hoover. One is at the French room of the Congress and the other is on the ninth floor of the Auditorium.

"Why is Chicago the world's greatest summer resort?" inquired the inquiring reporter of H. B. McCoy, delegate from the Philippines. "Say," said Mr. McCoy, "In my home town we get 365 days of sunshine every year, except one—and then we get 366, in leap year. Cross the equator, and solve the hi cost of clothing. All you need is a coat of tan. I'm speaking of Manila."

Gossip as to the chairman of the resolutions committee centers, of the time around the name of Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, but inside leaders said yesterday that no definite decision will be made Sunday.

JOHNSON AGENT TO CAST VOTE FOR THOMPSON

Denies Alliance Between Mayor and Senator.

Edgar J. Cook, the only instructed Johnson delegate elected in Illinois, will vote for Mayor William Hale Thompson for national committeeman. Cook so announced last night.

This delegate, elected from the Tenth congressional district, lives at 5730 Winthrop avenue, and is the Johnson manager at the headquarters in the Auditorium hotel.

Len Small of Kankakee came to Chicago yesterday morning and soon afterwards the information was passed along that Fred Baker of Paris will also vote for "Big Bill" for re-election. Baker was supposed to be close to Charles P. Hitch, who has been aggressively supporting Gov. Lowden.

It had therefore been assumed that Baker would vote for Senator L. Y. Sherman. The story yesterday was that Baker is under political obligation to Len Small, who desires the re-election of "your mayor."

Claims 33 Votes.

After these two recruits had been enrolled under the city hall banner, Eugene R. Pike—former city controller—said that the mayor will have 33 or 34 votes.

"We have three or four votes to spare now," went on Pike, "and before the roll is called next Monday, he may make it 35 or 36. There is no doubt Mayor Thompson will succeed himself as national committeeman from Illinois."

Mr. Cook, the Johnson manager, made a frank statement regarding his attitude. He said:

"I will vote for Mayor Thompson to the last. Of all the men before the people in Illinois, the mayor is the only one that I know of who has stood out as unalterably opposed to the league of nations."

Against "Proteets' Tears."

"Do you approve of the mayor's other principles as stated in the platform adopted by the county convention?" was asked.

"I'm against the patriotic tears of the profiteers," replied Mr. Cook. "I don't know anything but his other declaration. I will vote for Thompson, and I will do so unsolicited."

CHARGES PALMER AIDED NEPHEW TO EVADE U. S. DRAFT

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special]—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer and Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration, were charged today by Representative Mason, of Illinois, with using their office to obtain exemption from the draft of J. Kemp Bartlett Jr., nephew of the attorney general.

The charge was made in a letter from Mr. Mason to Representative Campbell, of Kansas, chairman of the rules committee, and supported by photostatic copies of correspondence between the two.

Mr. Caminetti, according to the correspondence, signed the certificate which led to the exemption, after the head of the immigration service at Hot Springs had refused to make such an affidavit.

The CONTINENTAL and COMMERCIAL BANKS CHICAGO

Increase savings deposits!

THIS was the final recommendation made by representative bankers who met with the Federal Reserve Board in Washington on May 19. Everybody can do something toward relieving the credit condition and building a secure foundation for prosperity. The meeting thought it wise

That bankers reduce their loans in preparation for the movement of the crops in the fall.

That the Government curtail its expenditures and reduce its borrowing to the minimum.

That states, cities and counties defer bond issues and postpone all but the most necessary public improvements.

That business halt new enterprises and limit its capital outlays.

That individuals save.

IN this interpretation of the country's needs thrift will have social as well as personal consequences. It is lifted above the plane of the personal and becomes a patriotic contribution to future prosperity without losing any of its former merit. Every increased savings account and every new savings account will have a direct effect on the credit situation, as it will also safeguard the depositor's future.

TO stimulate the savings habit this bank will pay interest from June 1 on all deposits made on or before June 5. The Savings Department is open on Saturdays continuously from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Last Saturday 2,091 people took advantage of this opportunity.

CONGRESS HALTS SESSIONS TO RUN OUT HECKLERS

Both Senate and House invaded in Irish Cause.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Both the senate and house were thrown into an uproar today by an outbreak of women sympathizers with Irish freedom.

There were evidently two parties to the demonstration, which started first in the senate during a speech by Senator Brandegee of Connecticut. Later a woman sanded guards at the house chamber door, and with friends in the gallery, shouted a challenge to members to deny their appeal in behalf of Ireland.

Answering a demand from the floor that they be thrown out and locked up, the women defied the entire house to attempt it, and as guards started after them they raced around the gallery, creating great disorder, until they finally were subdued and ejected.

Although the offenders were escorted to the capitol guardroom, no charges were lodged against them and they were permitted to go.

Senate Dignified Senate.

Breaking suddenly on the proverbial dignity of the senate just after Senator Brandegee in his speech to the author of the resolution referred to "the ravishes of the Hun," a woman's shrill voice from the gallery startled senators with "Why not eject the English Hun from Ireland?" Gallery guards made a rush in her direction, and Vice President Marshall ordered the woman put out, but it only led to heckling from other parts of the gallery.

For a moment a whirlwind of questions swept down from the galleries, and the vice president, laying aside his gavel, shouted sharp, preemtory orders to the attendants to remove the women. Meanwhile Senator Brandegee, still standing, waited patiently for order.

Senators who took no part in the outbreak seemed more startled than the members. Order finally was restored and the session went back to its work.

Gallery Sprint in House.

Word that the hecklers had invaded the senate reached the house before the women started the second performance. One young woman slipped through the cloak room door, planted herself in the main aisle and suddenly screamed. "Cowards!"

That was all she said, but instantly the entire gallery began screaming a volley of obscenities relating to the Irish situation. For a few moments the hecklers seemed to control the house. Speaker Gillett's gavel kept up an insistent tapping, and there were shouts of "throw them out," with an answering yell that the job was too big for all the house.

As the seconds passed, the gallery hecklers, a wild race, started around the benches, with everybody standing until the picket brigade finally was captured and put out.

Daniel T. O'Connell, director of the Friends of Irish Freedom, declared in a statement tonight that the heckling was "wholly without authority" and "knowledge" of his organization.

House Decides to Adjourn Sine Die on Saturday

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(Special)—Sine die adjournment of the present congress at 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon is provided in a concurrent resolution adopted today by the house on the motion of Republican Leader Mondell, who then adjourned the house to the resolution, or for a recess until September, probably will not be determined definitely until nearly the end of the week. Under the sine die adjournment resolution, congress would not reconvene until the regular session in December.

From Orphanage to Millions

Two little orphans found the Blue Bird of Happiness yesterday. They were "dopted" by Mr. and Mrs. William A. Foreman of Los Angeles, in proceedings before Judge Burns, sitting in the County court.

Yesterday they were "jest orphans" in the Masonic Orphanage home, La Grange. But night they occupied a suite at the Blackstone, had a maid and a footman to wait on them, a motor car to ride in, and a gold watch a piece. Their new "daddy" is head of Foreman & Clark, clothiers, with a fortune said to be in the millions.

"We have spent three years seeking a boy and a girl to adopt," said Mrs. Foreman. "At last we have found the two best children in the world."

The children were Herbert Lester Gray, 5 years old, and his sister, Frances, 4, until the adoption transformed them into William A. Jr. and Frances Maeferne Foreman.

"Call him Bill," said his new dad. "I've been Bill all my life, and I want the name to be known of his."

"My new daddy will give me a nickel," gravely announced Frances Maeferne.

"Won't you, daddy?"

Bill Jr. stated in an interview that Carpenter hasn't got a chance.

The children became orphans several months ago with the death of their parents, Herman L. and Mrs. Adena Bensed Gray.

left him and went to my home in Maryland. He wanted to meet there, please with me to come back, and finally consented and came back last night."

"I was sleeping by my husband's side," she continued. "Our baby, Dorothy, 6 months old, was with me."

"A shot awakened me. I saw a woman in white rise up. I recognized her as Mrs. Dunlop."

Amendment Is Rejected.

Senators presented an amendment, which he said would make the resolution acceptable to him, providing for a joint commission of Americans and Armenians to rehabilitate the new republic economically. It was rejected, 43 to 34, with only two Republicans, Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Townsend of Michigan, supporting it.

The announcement, which was made after the first conference of miners and operators with Secretary of Labor Wilson, was made at the mines-Barry meeting of the miners, expressed approval of President Wilson's plan.

Secretary Wilson will notify the president at once of the action of the joint conference and the appointment of an anthracite coal commission is expected to follow in a few days.

WILSON'S PLEA FOR ARMENIAN MANDATE DENIED

Senate Opposes Act by a Heavy Vote.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—President Wilson's plea for an American mandate over Armenia was rejected in the senate today by a vote of more than two to one.

Thirteen Democrats cast their votes with the united Republican membership on the final roll call, and the resolution "respectfully declining" to grant congressional authority for the mandate was adopted, 52 to 25, in the form drafted by the Republican leaders.

Good House Today.

The resolution to be sent to the house tomorrow, and the senators there plan to adopt it without change on Thursday. They say they hope for a decisive majority as the measure was given in the senate.

In the debate today the Democratic senate leaders counseled delay and tried in vain to put the decision over until the next session of congress. Scarcely a voice was raised in out and out advocacy of accepting the mandate.

How They Voted.

The roll call on final adoption of the resolution:

For the resolution:

REPUBLICANS.
Ball, Borah, Bradgate, Calder, Carpenter, Catt, Curtis, Dillingham, Elkins, Fall, Fernand, France, Beckham, Chamberlain, Dual, Geary, Harris, Smith, Ig. J., Nugent, Thomas, Pomerene, Reed, Shields, Total—62.

Against the resolution:

DEMOCRATS.
Phelan, Smith [S. C.], Pugh, Randal, Robinson, Shepard, Simmons, Smith, [S. C.], Tolson—23.

Amendment Is Rejected.

Hitchcock presented an amendment, which he said would make the resolution acceptable to him, providing for a joint commission of Americans and Armenians to rehabilitate the new republic economically. It was rejected, 43 to 34, with only two Republicans, Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Townsend of Michigan, supporting it.

The announcement, which was made after the first conference of miners and operators with Secretary of Labor Wilson, was made at the mines-Barry meeting of the miners, expressed approval of President Wilson's plan.

FRIEND IN NEED

CATHOLIC RULERS MAY VISIT ITALY'S KING, POPE SAYS

Still Claims Holy See's Temporal Power.

ROME, June 1.—An encyclical document was published today announcing an arrangement whereby Catholic sovereigns will be permitted by the pope to come to Rome to visit the king of Italy. This paper is considered one of the most important that has issued since the fall of the temporal power, but does not in any way relinquish the holy see's claim to temporal power.

Indeed, it is only surpassed in importance by that issued by Pope Pius X, giving Catholics permission to vote in political elections in Italy and serve as deputies in the Italian parliament.

Prior to that the word was "neither electors nor elected," and in the general elections it was the custom of Catholics to send their ballot papers to the pope as a sign of loyalty.

Internationally Important.

The present document is of international importance, while the other was merely of the national character.

During the fire the Tribune's plant was wiped out. In an old barn on the west side Mr. Wrigley had a printing press which he had purchased as junk and had repaired, going "broke" doing it. This press, sold to Joseph Medill for $2,000 a day after the big blaze, enabled the Tribune to continue publication. The Tribune missed just one day's work.

Mr. Wrigley still has copies of the papers printed on the old machine.

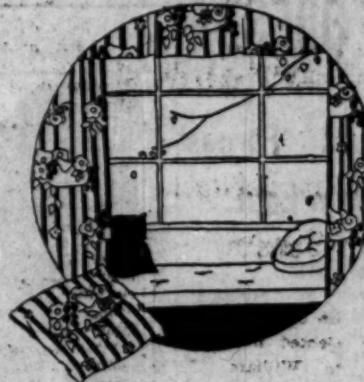

Overthrow Threatened.

King Charles of Portugal, another in-law of King Humbert, started on a visit to the latter at Rome on one occasion, but was stopped at Paris by the threat that if he continued his journey the clerics of Portugal were ready to join with the republicans in his overthrow. King Humbert, indignant over this incident, thereupon broke off diplomatic relations with Portugal.

Count Romanones, the Spanish premier, during the peace conference at Paris began negotiations with Premier Orlando of Italy, and the papal under-secretary of state for the arranging of a visit of King Alfonso to Rome, concluding the negotiations.

Secretary Wilson will notify the president at once of the action of the joint conference and the appointment of an anthracite coal commission is expected to follow in a few days.

New York, June 1.—Elihu Root, American member of the organizing committee of the permanent court of international justice of the League of Nations, has arrived in the United States from the Nieuw Amsterdam to attend the first meeting of the committee in London two weeks hence.

A dispatch from Washington says Mr. Root goes without credentials of any kind from his government.

railroads would be allowed to repay

Washington, D. C., June 1.—A bill providing for the general salary in-

Municipal Judge George B. Holmes in an address before members of the Electric club of Chicago yesterday told of the formation of the Municipal court and how it functions. This amount represents more than that collected by the Illinois courts combined and more than three times the amount credited to the courts of Cook county. BERLIN, June 1.—Being convinced that the Bolsheviks had stopped their last offensive since it was possible to separate their best troops, which had crushed Denikine, the Poles decided to attack before the movement was completed.

During the Denikine offensive there was a small number of Bolshevik troops on the Polish front. However, struggling with the Bolsheviks and organizing and building up an advantage of the situation. From the middle of February it gradually became evident the Bolsheviks intended to attack because they were reinforcing the front at the rate of ten divisions monthly.

Sign of Handicap.

Comparing ten divisions monthly with the numerous divisions frequently moved in ten days on the western front is the best proof of the Bolshevik lack of communication. The fact that the majority of the troops against Denikine moved on the Polish front immediately after the fall of Kiev is the best proof that the Bolshevik March offensive started prematurely to take advantage of the German Communist uprisings, which the Kapp revolt caused in March, instead of as originally planned in May. In addition, the opportunity the situation offered to inflict a severe defeat on the Bolshevik army, to change its concentrations was the necessity of obtaining a better defensive line against future attacks.

The line held offered no natural obstacle south of Bobruisk. Also the Pripet marshes split it. This marsh, plus lack of lateral rail communication, made a better position defensible.

The Drucker line offered a natural obstacle. After being obtained, it completely reversed the question of lateral rail communication because the north-south railway line through Mozyr, Mozyr, and Witseb, then in the hands of the Bolsheviks, changed to the hands south of the Beresina.

Reds' New Handicap.

Then the nearest Bolshevik lateral rail communication was seventy-five miles in their rear. This meant an advance of seventy-five to 100 miles over 250 miles of flat country to the rear. The same railway line, while the cavalry had been captured, was still rear.

In the same manner the cavalry's right wing after a break through was to turn southward, while the right army, after holding the first two days, was to go forward, cutting the line of the enemy's southward retreating troops.

After the success the plan depended upon surprise and speed. Final preparation covered the period of a few weeks. All Polish frontiers were closed and two miles northeast of Mozyr is the railway junction, Kalenowice, where the north-south railway line crosses the Plisk-Moscow line.

It was decided to capture this junction as a preliminary to the general movement for reasons, first, of cutting

POLES REPULSE REDS' OFFENSIVE BEGUN MAY 14

Warsaw Official Report
Claims Victory.

WARSAW, June 1.—"The great Bolshevik offensive, which was begun May 14 with strong forces between the Dvina and Pripet rivers, has been completely stopped," says an official communication issued today.

"The principal attacks of the soviet army were directed on one side along the Polotsk, Minsk, Melodochno railroad, and on the other eastward by the Beresina in the direction of Minsk. The objective of the attacks, according to intercepted orders, was the occupation of the Molodochno-Minsk railroad for May 25.

Victory in the Ukraine.

"In the Ukraine the attacks of the Kryvienko army in the direction of the Kryvienko-Polotsk railroad, last week, several days were required and the enemy compelled to beat a retreat in the Wolodarki region. A squadron of the 1st lancers heroically charged a battery in operation. The squadron lost two officers and fifteen men.

"At Wolodarki a charge of one of our squadrons threw back the enemy cavalry, inflicting heavy losses. Infinitely the attack of a brigade of cavalry of the Budennyi army came over to us with its horses.

"In the fighting now going on between the Dnieper and the Pripet a detachment of infantry composed of forty men defended itself against a thousand cavalry, inflicting severe losses. At Pliskow a post which refused to surrender was killed to the last man."

Rods Claim Partial Success.

"LONDON, June 1.—Russian Bolshevik forces fighting against the Poles and Ukrainians in the Kryvienko region, south of Kiev, have retired to new positions after "fighting with superior enemy forces," says yesterday's official statement from Moscow.

Several villages in the neighborhood of Molodochno, northeast of Minsk, which were abandoned by the Polish troops on Saturday, have been recaptured after heavy fighting, the statement says. In this sector the battle continues.

In the Zhitomir-Mosir district, in the center of the active front, fighting continues near the railroad running west from Reshitz, and is favorable to the Bolsheviks, the statement de-claims.

Dr. Pinkston's combination last shoes are better than the standard shoes because they are TWO WIDTHS NARROWER IN THE HEEL, ONE WIDTH NARROWER IN THE ARCH, AND TWO WIDTHS WIDER THROUGH THE BALL OF THE FOOT than any shoe that has ever been made. The narrow heel PREVENTS THE SHOE FROM SLIPPING UP AND DOWN. The narrow instep KEEPS THE FOOT FROM SLIDING FORWARD. The broad ball gives PERFECT FREEDOM OF THE TOES. The entire comfort and grace of walking depend entirely upon the proper articulation of the ball of the foot.

PRESIDENTS AND PRIMARIES.

When with all the women voting, there are 40,000,000 voters in the United States to choose between a dozen candidates for the nomination for presidency, it will be an expensive thing for any one candidate to carry his campaign to them.

After the nominations are made the political organizations gather the funds and manage the spending, and generally they avoid shocking the citizenship. A citizen who wants to be president and who must build up his organization and do his own spending is in a leaky boat.

If he owns a newspaper or string of newspapers and devotes his own space to himself, he may be able to keep his mantle white, but if he does not own a newspaper and spends money for space in another man's newspaper to advertise himself, he is engaged in an assault on the republic.

If a man makes a lot of money but has not become widely known, he might, in his candidacy, be a valuable man, but he could not get any votes unless he promoted himself, and promotion costs money. If he took his own money for that purpose, or if friends contributed for him, he would be damned by the process which made him known.

If the primary system is to continue in the selection of presidential candidates, promotion of candidates must either be direct or indirect. Mr. Bryan might prepare himself for a candidacy by doing fifteen years of Chautauqua time. He would cover the country, deal with the electorate and be known, come to think of it, when he was 70 years old.

Twenty-nine cents a day—one pound of sugar—to lure a man with a family into the postal service and keep him there. It cannot be done and it will not be done. The service has been disgruntled for months. It will continue to disintegrate, at a cost to business far exceeding the $33,000,000 spent through a brand of ham or a line in hard.

A Carnegie might scatter libraries and get votes. A general might win a war and gain the presidency. A man might so devote himself to the public good in increasingly widening fields until his name shone all over the country, but as the number of voters is increased the difficulty of getting information to them increases.

If the means of campaigning are limited the primary is limited. A caste is established to the extent that only men of a particular class may be candidates for the presidency—men whose occupations have brought them national publicity. The publicity need not illustrate great virtues. It may be merely publicity. As between a popular and nationally known corn doctor and an unknown genius, the people would take the corn doctor because they knew him.

If there is an objection to using the direct primary to its full extent, we probably shall swing back to the bosses. A few bold riddan conventions turn public opinion to the direct primaries. A few primaries in which campaigns are vigorously pushed will turn opinion back to the convention.

This much is clear, anyway—the more "popular" government is the more expensive it will be. To effectively educate 40,000,000 voters on your own merits is going to cost in future not $3,000,000 but more nearly $40,000,000. Votes always have been considered cheap at a dollar a piece.

JAPANESE IN MEXICO.

The Fall committee in the service, which has been investigating Mexican conditions nearly a year, has reported and the significance of the report concerns the relations of Mexico and Japan. The relations of Mexico to the United States are said, astonishing and absurd, but the relations of Mexico and Japan are portentous.

American failure to act wisely and sensibly with Mexico has been Japan's opportunity to act. If the United States had done whatever any rational nation would have done with such a neighbor as Mexico, Japan would not look there for a field of action.

The Fall committee says that it is reliably reported that Japanese liners arrive at the port of Salina Cruz every ten days and that Japanese are entering through that port in increasing numbers and that they are practically control commerce on the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

Many Americans are greatly concerned because the Japanese are taking Chinese and Siberian territory and acquiring power where friction with Americans would be least probable. Few Americans are at all concerned because Japanese are acquiring a foothold where friction with Americans is almost unassimilable.

Wherever Americans and Japanese come into contact the racial differences bring friction. There are substantial differences and they are not easily adjusted. We offend the Japanese. They hurt us.

Mexicans and Japanese evidently do not connect. The shrewdness and the courage of the Japanese enable them to penetrate into Mexico without trouble when Americans find nothing but trouble. There is, further, the Mexican policy of developing an alliance against the United States and that turns naturally to Japan.

The Japanese want to live in better conditions than they can live under the natural restrictions of their islands. They are going somewhere and everywhere so they find Americans opposing them—except in Mexico where Americans pay no attention to them.

We neglect the territory across our border and are interested only in territory across the sea. We may continue to neglect this until the Japanese have great interests in Mexico, vital interests there for which they will fight.

There we may discover that our issue with Japan is one which concerns us, not Chinese, Coreans, Lion Post.

or Siberians, one which we cannot avoid, one in which Japan will not yield and one for which we must go to war.

WHEN MERCY IS MERCILESS.

It is not a pleasant thing to see a man hanged. It is not a pleasant thing to sentence a man to be hanged. The taking of human life, even to protect the lives of others, is a solemn task, as it is a grave responsibility. Even the recommendation of such action is not to be made lightly. The Tribune recognizes these facts. It is in their very gravity which makes necessary an equal recognition of related facts.

When a man kills a fellow man, any thought of mercy comes too late to save the victim. But properly directed mercy may prevent the making of more victims. In commercial murder particularly—as that of Enright, Coleman, Kilkis, and Reckas—afterthoughts of mercy should be directed not to the slayer or the slain but to society. If one man can be murdered for profit and the slayer freed, another man can be so murdered and the slayer freed. Carried out to its logical conclusion, this means that any man can be murdered with reasonable assurance of safety. It is to prevent such a logical conclusion that society undertakes the unpleasant task of hanging the killers. If murderers are hanged, commercial killing will cease. If they are acquitted, killing will flourish until we are safe.

Mercy to murderers is merciless to society. We believe that of the two—murderers and society—the latter is the greater right to mercy and protection.

Sixteen defendants come to trial this week on charges of murder. The juries which try the cases will have a hard task and a heavy responsibility. If they seek to temper justice with mercy, let us hope that the mercy be shown to society rather than to those found guilty.

AN INSULT TO POSTAL EMPLOYEES AND THE PUBLIC.

The pinch penny policy of the joint congressional commission, revealed in its recommendation of an increase of $150 to $250 annual pay for postal clerks and letter carriers, is an insult to the workers and to the public which depends upon them for a vital service.

Loyalty receives a slap in the face. As if that were not enough, the victims are told that it is not a slap but a pat on the back. After fifteen months of patient waiting for the committee to return its recommendations the postal employees are told that increased salaries amounting to $20,000 a year have been advised. Apparently their intelligence is rated so low by the commission that it does not believe a earlier twenty-one years in service can figure the $33,000,000 down to a matter of only 29 cents a day for himself.

Twenty-nine cents a day—one pound of sugar—to lure a man with a family into the postal service and keep him there. It cannot be done and it will not be done. The service has been disgruntled for months. It will continue to disintegrate, at a cost to business far exceeding the $33,000,000 spent through a brand of ham or a line in hard.

A Carnegie might scatter libraries and get votes.

A general might win a war and gain the presidency. A man might so devote himself to the public good in increasingly widening fields until his name shone all over the country, but as the number of voters is increased the difficulty of getting information to them increases.

If the means of campaigning are limited the primary is limited. A caste is established to the extent that only men of a particular class may be candidates for the presidency—men whose occupations have brought them national publicity. The publicity need not illustrate great virtues. It may be merely publicity. As between a popular and nationally known corn doctor and an unknown genius, the people would take the corn doctor because they knew him.

If there is an objection to using the direct primary to its full extent, we probably shall swing back to the bosses. A few bold riddan conventions turn public opinion to the direct primaries. A few primaries in which campaigns are vigorously pushed will turn opinion back to the convention.

This much is clear, anyway—the more "popular" government is the more expensive it will be.

To effectively educate 40,000,000 voters on your own merits is going to cost in future not $3,000,000 but more nearly $40,000,000. Votes always have been considered cheap at a dollar a piece.

Editorial of the Day

THE MOUNTAIN CODE IN CHICAGO.

[Grand Rapids Herald.]

In the old feudal days of Kentucky the man who was right got "justice" if he was quickened with his rifle and surest in aim. Today we look back upon those days with thankfulness that the world has advanced and that law and order now prevail. But have we really advanced? The Kentucky mountain feudal laws were peculiar to a district. The mountains are now law-abiding lands, but what of our large cities?

Yesterday news came of another murder of a Chicago "labor leader." This man, John Kilkis, head of a stocky labor organization, charged in his dying statement that two other officials of the union were responsible for the crime. Chicago knows no great fuss about the murder, because Chicago knows that the Kentucky mountain code still lives in the second city of the United States.

OLD TIMER.

WILSON SALARY AND JUDGES' TOO ARE TAX EXEMPT

Supreme Bench Orders War Levy Returned.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Provisions of the war revenue act requiring the president and federal judges to pay an income tax on their salaries were declared unconstitutional today by the Supreme court in a 7 to 2 decision.

Under the act the president paid on his salary of $75,000 a year, approximately $16,000 in taxes. Revenues ready computed under the invalid provisions will under the court's decision be refunded by the treasury.

The Supreme court's decision was on appeals by Federal District Judge Walter Evans of Louisville, Ky., from lower court decisions dismissing a suit brought by him to recover taxes involuntarily paid. He contended that the federal constitution prohibited "judges' salaries being diminished during continuance in office."

Private Income Taxable.

Justice Van Devanter, who headed the majority opinion, held that the section of the census violated constitutional provisions prohibiting the diminution of such salaries. Such a tax, he argued, could be gradually increased until the entire salary was taken. The majority opinion held, however, that a federal judge was not exempt from tax on his private income or on his property.

The opinion of the constitution forbidding diminution of the federal judges' salaries is in article 3, Article 2 of the constitution says "the president shall receive a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected."

The Supreme court today also refused to interfere with decisions of the North Dakota Supreme court concerning constitutional a series of state constitutional amendments and statutes to carry into effect an industrial program in North Dakota and permitting state bond issues to finance the enterprises.

The North Dakota Supreme court decision declared valid bond issues aggregating $17,000,000 authorized by the state for financing a series of state owned grain elevators and flour mills, farm land mortgages, and a state owned bank.

Quaker Oats Suit Dismissed.

Government appeals in the federal anti-trust suit against the Quaker Oats company were dismissed today by the Supreme court on motion of the government. Dissolution of the company under the Sherman act had been asked by the government, but the company won in the lower court.

Heir Granite City Case Next Fall

The Supreme court ordered re-arguements next fall in appeals brought by the American Steel Foundries, involving the right of organized labor to engage in picketing and picketing and growing out of a strike at the company's plant at Granite City, Ill.

GREAT WELCOME FOR 12,000 MILE FLYERS IN TOKIO

Acclaim Italians with Flowers and Kisses.

TOKIO, June 1.—[By the Associated Press.]—Mastering a tempest that was raging in the Hankone mountains, forty miles southeast of the metropolis, the Italian aviators, Lieuts. Masiere and Ferrari, who arrived in Tokio yesterday, after a 12,000 mile flight from Rome, are credited with the longest airplane flight in history.

The aviators left Osaka at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and separated in the mountains, where they were buffeted by a hurricane of rain, wind, and thunder.

Both expressed a hope to visit America.

Greeted by 100,000 People.

Three Japanese officials, including the picture.

Later the aviators were welcomed with gifts from the city, army, and navy. The members of the cabinet, delegations from the army and navy and the Italian embassy and 100,000 spectators had gathered at the landing field.

Ferrari was lost in the storm and compelled to land, but resumed the flight shortly and arrived here undamaged. He also was tendered a tremendous reception and showered with flowers and gifts.

Both were lost in the storm and compelled to land, but resumed the flight shortly and arrived here undamaged. He also was tendered a tremendous reception and showered with flowers and gifts.

Elaborate functions followed the arrival of the aviators. In an interview they said they were welcomed by a man who had substituted for Gabriele D'Annunzio, the poet-aviator, and that they were happy to be the mediums of Italy's progress in air flights.

They suggested certain technical improvements of airplanes, but were convinced that an around the world flight would be easy. Aviation had been demonstrated as a practical science, they said.

Both expressed a hope to visit America.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings

WHEN R. H. Macy & Co.,
the big New York department store, announced a sale of all-wool suits for $29.50, three weeks ago, it is said that nearly 5,000 men besieged the store the first day!

Yet the suits were only "ready-mades."

What is going to happen down here at our wholesale plant Wednesday, when we offer a BETTER VALUE—a made to special order, built to measure, all-wool suit for $29.50!

Chicago men are surely as alert as the men of New York.

True, we're equipped for almost any size crowd that may come. Better equipped, indeed, than the Macy Company or any individual retail store.

For we have two massive buildings down here, twelve big floors, devoted exclusively to tailor shops and tailor-service.

But regardless of these ample facilities, we desire—for the comfort and convenience of everybody—to distribute the sales evenly throughout the day.

Eleven in the morning to three in the afternoon are rush hours. And Saturday is the rush day of all days. To relieve the pressure of these peak times, we offer a discount of one dollar on all sales made Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, before 10 A.M.

Come early,
even if you have to take a little time away from your work.

Whether you are an employer or employee, merchant or mechanic, the savings offered down here this week will warrant you in getting up with the milkman—indeed, of taking an hour or two away from your work.

In fact, the saving of at least $25 per suit assured to every buyer by this sale, will not only pay you for your time, but for your taxi-fare down here, if you mind the short and easy three-block walk from the loop.

Carloads of fine woolens delayed by freight tie-up, arriving too late for regular season's showing, offered at bare salvage prices

One hour before the opening of any other store in Chicago this morning we will lift the curtain on the greatest tailoring clearance in world's history.

Here's why:

A considerable portion of our finest woolens arrived this season from four to ten weeks late; some of it so late that it had to be excluded entirely from the regular season's selling.

Part of the blame belongs to the mills. And part to the nation-wide freight congestion.

But placing the blame doesn't move the goods. With new Fall stock due a few weeks hence, we must dispose of these tardy Spring deliveries. We must have the room they occupy—regardless of cost or loss.

So for the double purpose of effecting the necessary clearance in record time—and simultaneously dealing a real blow to high clothes prices—we have decided to offer the entire stock—regardless of its original cost—for

STORES 'HOLDING OUT' ON LUXURY TAX MUST PAY UP

U. S. Warns Merchants of Peril of Arrest.

Chicago dealers who have failed to pay the tax on men's and women's furnishings, rugs, carpets, and other articles selling at prices which bring them under the classification of luxury, will be safe this year, Sam C. Mager, of Internal Revenue Bureau, W. H. Beehan announced last night. Back taxes due the government from this source run into many thousands of dollars, Mr. Mager said.

Letters have been sent to scores of dealers informing them warrants for a tax of 10 per cent on luxury items, government funds, would be issued unless the luxury taxes were in the hands of revenue officials by Saturday night.

"Some of the dealers," Mr. Mager said, "have never paid the government a cent, although they have sold large amounts of goods on which they have collected the tax."

Visit Every Store.

Chief Field Agent Thomas O'Brien said his men would visit every establishment in Chicago where luxury taxes may have been collected. Women deputies will check up on dealers in women's furnishings and stores where the presence of a man would arouse suspicion.

Under the articles on which a 10 per cent tax is assessed by the government are men's shirts selling above $3 each, women's silk stockings selling above $2 per pair, umbrellas and sun shades costing more than $4 each. Rugs, carpets, picture frames, purses, portable lighting fixtures are among other articles subject to the tax.

Pay Your Tax.

More than 300,000 notices on the second payment of the 1919 income tax due June 15 have been mailed by clerks in the internal revenue department.

"Those who do not pay the tax by June 15 will be classed as delinquent," Mr. Mager said.

SLAYS, JOY RIDES, DANCES 2 NIGHTS, TRAPS HIMSELF

Charles Cole, 23 years old farm hand, confessed yesterday to a coroner's jury at Crown Point, Ind., that he had slain his employer, Chris Tascher, owner of a farm two miles south of that city, over Saturday night.

He told how Mr. Tascher and the children had gone on a visit to Kankakee, and of what happened between him and Tascher immediately before the shooting.

"I was smoking a cigarette," he said. "Tascher didn't like cigarettes, whiskey, or dancing. He spoke sharply to me, and I told him to give me $15 and to borrow his auto to take my girl to a dance. He said I could take the car. Then he said I couldn't."

"I got a revolver and shot him, stuck the revolver in his hand, and went to the dance in his auto."

Cole said he danced all Saturday night with Mabel Batterman at Le Roy, Ind. He slept Sunday night in a Crown Point garage. Monday afternoon, and evening, he spent dancing with his sweetheart at Cedar Lake.

Late Monday night, on returning home, he sprawled over the body of Tascher. He fled screaming to the farm of a neighbor. For a while he stuck to his story that Tascher had committed suicide. But the strain was too great, he said, and he had to confess.

"Unloaded" Revolver Kills a Child at Play

The "unloaded" revolver took another life yesterday—that of Angelo Cannone, 7 years old, 1215 West Taylor street. He and Frank Onesto were playing. Onesto was the "doctor." Angelo said he would be the patient. He got his father's revolver and said: "Now I'll shoot myself and you fix me up." He pointed the gun at his heart and fired. But Frank couldn't "fix him up." Angelo died on the way to a hospital.

LABOR FINDS BIG "KICK-BACK" IN HIGH WAGE RATE

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Restricted output kills the goose that lays the golden egg. The building trades of Chicago are beginning to discover it in a noticeable slackening of employment. Builders and workers are evidently to the fore these last three or four weeks. The following tendency has developed:

High wages plus diminished output by the worker have shot labor costs to a point where building activities are still being curtailed—months ago they were chopped in half and $100,000,000 of work was laid up.

Highest wage schedules in the country have brought outsiders trooping in. Labor supply has increased, while demand has diminished. Result, contractors report no shortage of common labor, while skilled workers are looking for jobs.

High Wages Attract Outsiders.

The transportation breakdown has much to do with the breaking of the building labor shortage. In Detroit and other automobile centers thousands of men are out of work for lack of materials. In Cleveland, there are 10,000 in the Pittsburgh district comparable to employment is reported. The result has been to send a stream of labor into Chicago—the $1 an hour for building laborers looks as good to the man getting 65 cents in Detroit and 60 cents in Omaha and Minneapolis as it does to the man in Chicago. So they have been traveling in until there is a small glut in the building labor market. Then, too, many of the striking switchmen have been added to the labor reservoir. The $1.25 rate for building labor is being the only cities reported with such a rate. New York, which has been the pacemaker, pays only $1.12½ an hour, and most of the other cities from Detroit to Seattle pay $1 an hour.

Feeling Competition for Jobs.

"The natural result," said one big builder yesterday, "is that Chicago workers by boasting their wages higher than anywhere else have attracted outside labor. Instead of having the advantage of a shortage of men, they are now beginning to feel competition for jobs."

"For two weeks now we have had no trouble in getting common building labor; there's plenty of it. And on my jobs every morning there is a group of carpenters and bricklayers on the sidewalk looking for work. Job is the only man. This competition, in turn, has taken up some of the slack, and the men are doing more work than a few months ago."

Oppose Restricted Output.

All advanced labor leaders hold that the theory of restricted output is a fallacy. Samuel Gompers said: "The idea of restricted production is a very dangerous one."

Even in England, where the theory was an accepted principle of trades unionism, it is being rapidly abandoned. High wages and high labor costs are two far different things. By producing more labor costs are reduced, the selling price of commodities is lowered, and the result becomes real high wages because their purchasing power is increased. Union leaders with great unanimity declare there is no set restriction upon labor's output, but employers say it is there just the same.

Man Power Wasted.

"It can be seen," said one leading building contractor, "in the number of bricks laid per day. By a sort of common consent the men seem to agree that such and such an amount is the day's work. The wages and labor security always mean lowered output per man. Increased-labor supply, meaning competition for jobs, brings more normal production."

"Man power is wasted, too, not only by diminished efficiency but by jurisdictional disputes. Take scaffolds, for example. I have half a dozen men who for fifteen years have done nothing but build scaffolds. But if as a contractor I put up scaffolds for the roughing in work, the bricklayers refuse to use them because they were not put up by their own laborers."

"If the carpenters have built a scaffold the brickmen are the bricklayers and plasterers will kick up a fuss using it. It all wastes time, labor, and material. The national board of awards has just sought to settle this by a finding that carpenters shall build certain scaffolds and laborers shall build certain other scaffolds used by bricklayers and plasterers. Where everybody uses them, both groups help build the scaffolds."

The real slackening of employment is shown in figures given out yesterday by the Illinois employment bureau. They reflect a general tendency similar to that in the building trades. They are: In March for every 100 help-wanted registrations there were 80 employments. In some mysterious manner this tentative decision was conveyed to the brotherhood chiefs. Immediately there was a roar—"no men, no work unless we share them." The "Big Four" made it plain to the board that they would not tolerate any award in which they did not share, and "shut the door."

The indications are that there will be no award this week, unless the board decides either to defy the "Big Four" or include its members in an award of from 20 to 30 per cent increase.

"BIG 4" IMPERILS RAIL WORKERS' RAISE IN WAGES

Will the railway board make a temporary award to those classes of railway workers who admittedly are underpaid?

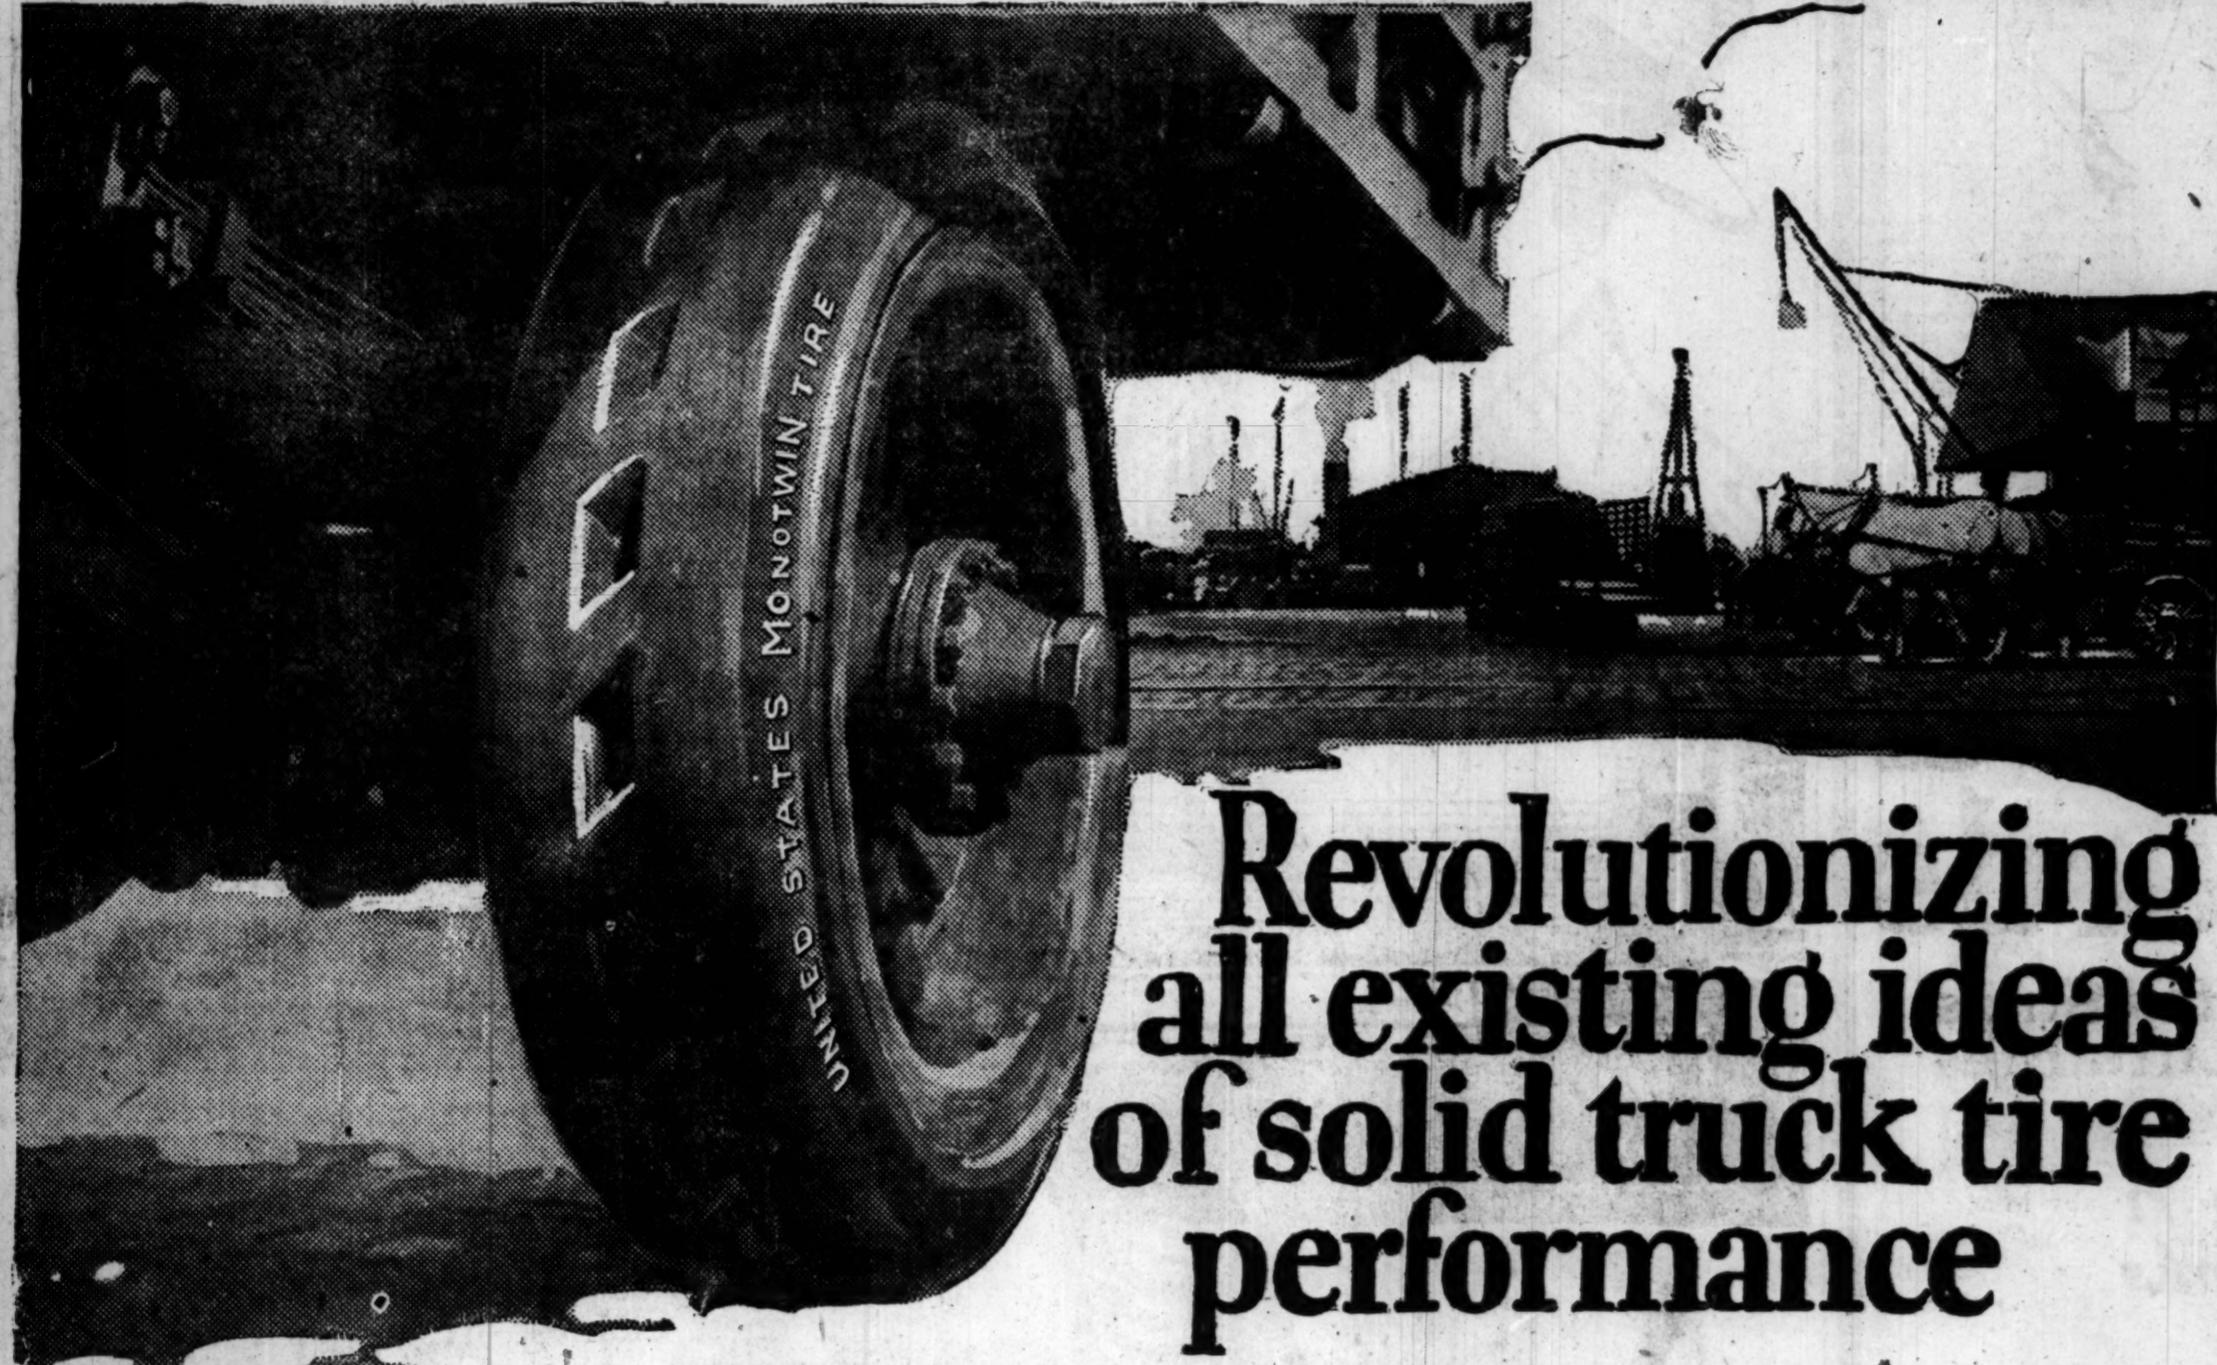

Will the award be made before the end of the week?

Members of the board declared yesterday the board itself didn't know. It practically has been decided, it is said, to award an increase ranging from 20 to 30 per cent to the admittedly underpaid classes of railway employment. In some mysterious manner this tentative decision was conveyed to the brotherhood chiefs. Immediately there was a roar—"no men, no work unless we share them."

The "Big Four" made it plain to the board that they would not tolerate any award in which they did not share, and "shut the door."

U.S. Rubber Company Announces the MONOTWIN—a New Truck Tire

Revolutionizing all existing ideas of solid truck tire performance

HERE, at last, is the MONOTWIN—the solid truck tire the whole motor truck transportation world has been expecting.

Accomplishing, at a single stroke, what all the strange-looking solid truck tires—with their slits and slots and other innovations—have been striving for.

The MONOTWIN is built out of grainless rubber—non-splitting. With rubber and base band chemically united—ending base separation.

Its combination of rubber cross bars and depressions represents the greatest advance ever made in solid truck tractioning—dissipating traction heat and keeping the tire structure cool because of the radiating qualities of the depressions—acting as a non-skid tread—enabling the tread to wear down uniformly with no necessity for re-grooving during the life of the tire.

The MONOTWIN is also alone among solid truck tires in its cushioning qualities—something heretofore pronounced impossible for a solid to have in any degree. Helping the driver—protecting the load.

It can carry a heavier load than two single tires of half the section width—and its distinctive contour and tread enables it to retain its load carrying ability undiminished throughout its life.

It is the one and only solid truck tire of its kind in design and construction.

The local U. S. Solid Truck Tire representatives—here named—can supply interested truck owners with any further information desired.

Specify the U. S. MONOTWIN when ordering your new truck.

Six Dollars and Upwards

When can you deliver?

Every printer has to face that crucial question with every order he takes.

Customers may wonder why Burnett is so reluctant to promise delivery on a definite date.

It is because we regard a promise as an obligation—like marriage "not to be entered into lightly."

"He that is good at making excuses is seldom good for anything else" said Ben Franklin, wisest of printers.

We agree with Ben. Although alibis are easy in these days of shortages, strikes and other calamities, we prefer to promise little and perform much.

This plant runs day and night to give Burnett customers all the speed consistent with good work. Speed on any other basis costs too much.

Dependable promises—dependable results. That's the Burnett ideal.

If it's yours, why not realize it?

and vote for Gov. Lowden with $2,500 of his money in your pocket, weren't you?" asked Senator Kenyon.

Moore did not answer directly, and Nat Goldstein was placed on the stand. He repeated in substance what Moore had stated.

"I was surprised when I got the money, and I told Babler I did not need it," said Goldstein. "I explained political canvas and election methods in St. Louis, he said he had remarked at the meeting with Emerson that 'if Gov. Lowden were nominated a good deal of money could be spent.'

"That was all that was said then," he added.

"Shortly after that I got a telephone message from Emerson to meet the governor," he continued. "There never was one word of money spoken with the governor."

Held as Trust Fund.

"Then Mr. Babler, a few days later, called Moore and myself over and gave us the check. We were told to deposit it."

Goldstein said he deposited it in his own bank, "but I consider it in the nature of a trust fund."

"Do you expect to return the $2,500?" Chairman Kenyon asked.

"I do, unless Gov. Lowden is nominated," the witness replied. "I've never said I intended to vote for Lowden. You gentlemen don't understand the systems of political organizations."

"Oh, no, we are mere novices."

FROM UNKNOWN TO TOP IN YEAR, WILSON'S FEAT

ARTICLE IV.—HOW JOHNNY WILSON CLIMBED UPWARD.

BY EYE WITNESS.

Charlestown, Mass.—[Correspondence.]—Stanley Ketchel, George Chip, and Al McCoy were all unknowns before they won the title, and Johnny Wilson, the new middleweight titleholder, was like them. A year ago he was no one known, but he was taking on two soldiers a night for $50 out at Camp Devens, near Boston.

Further more, though he was climbing, Eddie Jeff Smith, Tommy Robson, and all the other middleweights, he could not get a regular fight for the reason that they were all contenders, "and," says Johnny, "I was a little too tough for 'em and they did not want to run the risk of being knocked out and losing the chance to meet O'Dowd."

First Fight Brought $2.50.

Once, so lately as 1915, I think it was Johnny boxed Knockout Sweeney for $2.50, while we were on this topic of the long, hard struggle toward the throne that I told Johnny how Hardy Downing, Salt Lake promoter, had told me that he paid Jack Dempsey $2.50 for the first fight Dempsey fought under him. With his slow, sad smile, Johnny replied: "Well, Jack got $2.50 more than I did for my first at that."

Like Peter Harman of New Orleans, the bantamweight champion, and Johnny Dundee, the lightweight so often spoken of as the most promising contender for Benny Leonard's honors, Johnny Wilson is an Italian. He was born in Giovanna, Francesco, Pianico and he is the son of Paul and Marie Pianico, who came to New York from Italy as young married folks. Johnny thinks it was from down around Naples they came.

Born in New York.

Johnny was born March 23, 1893, in One Hundred and Sixth street, New York, and the parents still live in that neighborhood. Father works for the telephone company, mother at home at 259 East One Hundred and Eighth street. Johnny has four brothers and three sisters. Two of the boys—one of them Johnny—and two of the sisters are married.

Johnny went to school as far as grade 7 B, which about brings you to high school. The folks wanted him to go to college, but he didn't want to go to school, and he soon started earning his living as a sheet metal and structural iron worker. What with his older brother—known in the ring as Kid Wilson—being a fighter, Johnny naturally got interested in the fight game and not only started himself but also got Willie Jackson, the extremely promising lightweight, his first six or seven preliminary fights.

Filled in at Club Shows.

"When I first began to be a fighter," says Johnny, "and was not very friendly. Meanwhile I just filled in at smoke talks at the clubs and substituted for one of the boys at the Shattuck key club."

All this was in New York City. It was slow going and very hard work, but Johnny never minded hard work.

The first big fight—the first of the boxing records—was Dec. 11, 1911, when Johnny knocked out George Cunningham in one round. There were twenty-three fights in 1912, fourteen of them knockouts; nine in 1913, four of them knockouts; eight in 1915, two of them knockouts; fourteen in 1916, four of them knockouts; seventeen in 1917, two of them knockouts; nine in 1918, six of them knockouts; and three thus far in 1920, one of them a knockout and all of them wins.

Toughest Battle in Canada.

When I asked Johnny what was the toughest fight he ever had, he smiled the slow smile again and said: "That was a fight where it took a crack on the chin that knocked me flat in the ring. I fought fourteen rounds to draw. It happened July 28, 1917, in Halifax, when I fought the Nova Scotian, Roddy MacDonald, a big, strong, tough fellow."

Grudge Fight with Sweeney.

Johnny thinks his prettiest fight was the championship battle with O'Dowd, and his meanest the ruction with Knockout Sweeney in New York City in 1915. That was what Johnny calls "the greatest fight I ever had." Sweeney had already had three or four knockouts, and, as Johnny puts it, "Sweeney was calling me a Jew and I was calling him a 'harp' and on this night of May 1, 1915, there was an argument in the dressing room before the fight and they broke us apart, and an argument again after the fight and they broke us again."

"Between arguments and name calling, there was what I call ten lively rounds. Three months later we made up. He found out I wasn't a Jew. Everybody thinks I am, but I'm a Catholic and so's my wife, and I belong to the Knights of Columbus and Boston Lodge No. 10 of the Elks."

Devised Own Tactics.

Wilson worked out his own style of fighting. He was not unobtrusive, and every chance he got he'd go and watch a fellow, and if he pulled a new punch Johnny would work it out in his own way, but he never modeled himself on anybody, especially. He has seen all of the great heavyweights of his time in action, except Dempsey, but never has cared really to study a fighter unless he was his weight.

LIBERTY AND JUNIOR MEET.

The Liberty and Junior boxing teams will hold their weekly meetings tonight in the public hearing room in the city hall. The meetings begin at 6:30 p. m. and the Juniors at 8. Free hand games will be scheduled for next Sunday.

GASOLINE ALLEY—AND WALT DIDN'T SAY A WORD.

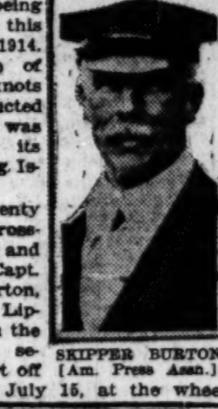

Shamrock IV. Gets First Trial in American Waters

City Island, N. Y., June 1.—Shamrock IV., challenger for the America's cup, was tried under its own sail to day for the first time since being brought to this country in 1918.

In breeze of about ten knots the reconstructed green racer was put through its paces on Long Island Sound.

It had a twenty minute spin around the sound and back with Capt. William Burton, who will sail Lipton's yacht in the international series that start off Sandy Hook to sail each day over the America's Cup course on the waters of the Atlantic, the brushes between the two Shamrocks continuing until the international contest.

Bristol, R. I., June 1.—The sloop Resolute was hauled out on the marine railway at the Herreshoff yards today to receive finishing touches for its trials with Vanitie off Newport beginning Thursday, to determine the defender of the America's cup.

Mrs. Fox was bragging one day about the large number of her cubs.

"How many cubs do you bring into the world at one time?" she asked the LIONESS.

"Only ONE," replied the Lioness—"but it's a LION!"

MURADS COST 20 CENTS FOR A BOX OF 10—BUT THEY'RE MURADS!

MURADS would be lower priced if we left out all or part of the 100% Turkish tobacco of the purest and best varieties grown—or if we substituted inferior grades of Turkish tobacco.

But they wouldn't be MURADS—they'd only be Foxes!

DRY DAM BROKEN IN GOTHAM; CITY SWIMS IN BOOZE

Senator Calder Asks for Federal Action.

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—Officials in the office of Charles R. O'Connor, federal prohibition director in this state, admitted today that within the last four months 100,000 gallons of whisky and alcohol of a retail value estimated to be more than $2,500,000 had been obtained by an organized band from warehouses and whisky dealers in this and other cities throughout the country on spurious permits containing the forged signature of the director.

All the permits, it also was admitted, were issued on forms obtained from the New York office of the director. It was said O'Connor had made a flying trip to his Albany office to learn whether there were frauds there also.

Whisky Supply Continues.

Although the entire force of James Shevlin, federal prohibition supervising agent, who is in charge of the enforcement of the prohibition law in this city, has been transferred to the department of justice and secret service agents, have been endeavoring to run down the band at the head of the conspiracy to distribute whisky and "doctor" alcohol, the conspirators within the last two weeks are known to have obtained thousands of gallons of whisky through the use of the fraudulent permits.

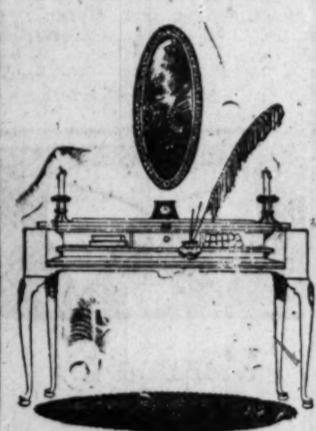

Caledon Buells Over.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Charges that liquor was being sold over the bar in New York at exorbitant prices and that federal prohibition agents apparently were connected in some way with violations, were made to the senate today by Senator Calder, Republican, New York. He said he had reason to believe much money was being made by the counterfeiting of certain authorities, withdrawal of liquor from bond and that some government officials were profiting personally by that practice.

"It is the general belief in New York," said Senator Calder, "that it was an 'inside job.' Either Commissioner O'Connor must have knowledge of it, or he should be removed."

DR. KINLEY TO BE ELECTED HEAD OF U. OF I. TODAY

Dr. James to Be Made President Emeritus.

Dr. Kinley, acting president of the University of Illinois, is to be elected to the presidency today at a meeting of the board of trustees in the Blackstone hotel. It was learned last night. He will succeed Dr. Edmund J. James, who resigned on March 9 after serving for fourteen years.

It has been generally agreed among the trustees for some weeks that Dr. Kinley was to be named. Heads of a number of other universities were discussed, but all the trustees' sessions ended with the name of Dr. Kinley as the logical candidate.

Dr. Kinley has been acting as president since last July, when Dr. James took a leave of absence because of illness. The formal inauguration of Dr. Kinley will probably take place in September, when Dr. James will be made president emeritus. The board is also expected to pass on what retiring allowance will be made the later.

Born in Scotland.

Dr. Kinley was born in Scotland in 1881 and came to the United States eleven years ago with his parents. They settled in Andover, Mass., where Dr. Kinley went to Yale university. He was graduated in 1884 and was made principal of the North Andover Mass. High school, where he remained until 1890.

In 1891 and 1892 he was a teacher of history in the Johns Hopkins university and instructor in economics and logic in the Baltimore Woman's college. He then studied economics in the University of Wisconsin in 1893, after which he joined the faculty of the University of Illinois as an assistant professor in economics. He was made a full professor a year later and also dean of the College of Literature and Art.

Still retaining the chair of economics, he organized courses in business training in 1902 and it was principally through his efforts that the College of Commerce came into being. It was his ideas and his energy and administrative ability principally which shaped the curriculum.

Authority on Finance.

Dr. Kinley is an authority on finance and is the author of several books on the subject.

In 1910 Dr. Kinley was appointed one of the delegates to the Fourth International Conference of American States at Buenos Aires, and after that was for a brief time, United States minister on special mission to Chile. He is a member of the committee on research in economics and history of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. He is also a honorary member of the faculty of the University of Santiago, Chile, and of economic societies in various parts of the world.

Want More Funds.

With the election of a president, the trustees will complete plans to obtain at the next session of the legislature legislation increasing the university's special tax bill one-third. The trustees also want a special appropriation of $10,000,000 for buildings, laboratories, shops, and equipment to be spent at the rate of $1,000,000 a year.

The special tax for the university was one mill on each dollar of the taxable property of the state. This was reduced to two-thirds of a mill last July after the valuations were increased by one-third.

"That action gives us approximately the same amount of money," said Robert F. Carr, president of the board of trustees. "Our income is about $500,000 annually. But unless we are able to increase it by a considerable amount, we shall be badly crippled."

10,000 Students Attend.

We have about 10,000 students registered this year. The faculty numbers between 700 and 800. Since the coming of high prices, we have been able to increase the salaries only about 10 per cent. We must give the faculty more money. They cannot live decently unless they get more."

Alumni associations in every city in Illinois as well as the commercial organizations and club women will be enlisted in the campaign to obtain the reason for his action.

City Bureau Head Quits; Says Can't Live on $500

Henry V. McGurkin, for fourteen years superintendent of the city compensation bureau at a salary of $4,500 a year, resigned yesterday declaring that he had waited in vain for the city to begin paying what outside firms are willing to pay for expert help.

"I cannot afford to refuse better jobs outside the hall any longer. I've waited long enough," Mr. McGurkin said.

McGurkin, who is also secretary of the city harbor board, has accepted the vice presidency of the Investors' Security Corporation organized by the stockholders of the Madison and Kedzie State bank.

Hotel Sherman Gets Wine After Many Obstacles

Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, chief of the prohibition enforcement group, placed his official O. K. yesterday on a shipment of 640 cases of sparkling California wine consigned to the Hotel Sherman. Dry agents stopped the car at California, but allowed the shipment to proceed when it was found that the wine was classed as nonbeverage and was to be sold for sacramental and medicinal purposes. The Hotel Sherman company has a license to sell wine and whisky to druggists.

RAID HOTEL, TAKE 5 AWNING MEN AS BOMB PLOTTERS

Police Act as Rival Plant Is Blown Up.

Detectives last night raided a room in the Briggs house, where the Chicago Tent and Awning Manufacturers' association was meeting, and arrested five members, four of them officials. They were arrested on complaint of Robert M. Foreman of the Federal Tent and Awning company, 2811 Colorado avenue, who charges they entered into a conspiracy to destroy his property and business. A bomb had been exploded at the Federal plant yesterday morning which did considerable damage.

Association Heads Seized.

Those under arrest are:

AVERY S. STEVENS of A. A. Stevens & Bros., 1234 South Wabash avenue, president of the association.

EUGENE B. SMITH of 3554 Harrison street and his brother, Henry, of 2502 Smalley court, members of the firm of Smith Bros., 718 North LaSalle street. Henry is vice president of the association.

LOUIS ELLINGSON of Louis Ellingson & Co., 1907 Milwaukee avenue, treasurer.

NELS V. SVENSEN, 545 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, secretary of the association and head of the Atlas Awning company.

The raid was made by Detective Sergeant Lawrence McDonough of the "bomb squad" and Detectives Homer and O'Meara.

Bomb Conspiracy Traced.

Sgt. Christ Slosar, head of the squad, declares that he had some evidence implicating the manufacturers' association in the throwing of a bomb in Sixty-third street some time ago, and that he took the case to the state's attorney's office, where it was not sufficient evidence to prosecute.

"There are twenty-six members in the association," said Slosar, "and about thirty-six big manufacturers in the city. We were given to understand that efforts were being made either to drive nonmembers into the association or out of business."

Official records declare that he applied for membership and at a meeting last Tuesday was rejected. The arrested officials admit he was rejected, but deny all knowledge of the bomb or of any attempt to injure the Federal Tent and Awning company.

Dengue of Plotting.

"I understand," said Svensen, "that the Federal people have been having some trouble with the Awning Hangmen's union. To say that the association is trying to rob or violence of any kind is absurd."

The five men were released on bonds of $1,000, signed by Townes M. Williams of 4247 North Paulina street.

"MYSTIC MILLER" SENT TO PEN FOR $200,000 DEALS

Herman J. Blumson, the 66 year old "mystic miller," who disappeared last July after a fancy career of alleged embossing, forging, and "con" games involving more than $200,000, pleaded guilty yesterday to Judge George C. Roosevelt, who had been summoned to the bench to preside over the trial of the man.

It's pretty hard to see a picture like "The Prince Chap" and then refrain from becoming sentimental about its charms. Besides being an adorable fairy tale, full of humor and pathos, it is exceedingly well acted and equally well produced. You doubt this, just cast your eyes upward and note the various people responsible for its success.

To tell you the story would be like taking bread from your pleasure in watching it. At least it would if you like surprises as much as you ought. But just a hint—there's an American sculptor who leaves his country and the girl he loves to go to London to study and work. And, remember, many, many unexpected things can happen in bohemian Soho!

Perhaps the most exceptional acting—and that's saying a lot—is that of Ann Forrest. She takes the part of Puckers, the dear little, queer little slavey. It will be a foolish producer who overlooks the specialty of hers in the future.

Thanks to her and the cunning black eyed baby, Claudia, there's many a damp handkerchief in the audience by the end of the afternoon.

The only fault to be found is that the lovely

Thomas Meighan doesn't grow enough older in the thirteen years that the picture is supposed to cover. But he can easily be forgiven that, can't he?

Want a Doll Buggy.

I wrote you some time ago, but did not hear any more about it, regarding a doll buggy for my girl, 9 years.

She is just waiting patiently for one and I cannot afford to buy one for her, as I have four other children, so I do hope some kind reader will have one that is not being played with and will surely make my little girl happy. I will gladly call for it or pay express.

PROTEST AGAINST LIMITING COOK COUNTY SOLONS

Con Con Report Gives the City 65 Votes.

Springfield, Ill., June 1.—Limitation of Cook county in the general assembly as proposed by downstate members of the Illinois constitutional convention legislative committee would mean defeat of the basic law at the polls, Cook county delegates declared today. The downstate members replied that the proposed limitation of Cook county "would like the report better after they had given it due consideration." A proposal fixing the representation in the legislature was drafted by a subcommittee of the legislative committee and was presented today by Delegate Lee Michell of Aurora. No final action on the proposed limitation of Cook county would be from Cook county and the remainder from down state. The plan does not contemplate a change in the representation of Chicago or down state in the senate.

Chicago Delegates Protest.

Each county is to have one representative and an additional one for each 50,000 population. Cook county delegates complain that the proposed limitation of Cook county "would probably be increased ten members during the next two years under the population system, and that they may reach a total of eighty-three in forty years, the downstate is always assured of at least 100 members.

A new appointment every ten years is provided in the subcommittee plan.

Take Up Income Tax.

The revenue committee, at a session this afternoon, decided to include in its final report an income tax provision and to empower the legislature to provide for exemption of up to $1,000. The subject of whether the tax should be assessed on a flat basis or by graduation was considered, but no final action taken.

U. S. Strips Off Wheat Lid; Profits Not Figured Up

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Federal control of wheat and wheat products ended today in the most direct cessation under the administration of the law creating his office and the food administration control ending by proclamation of President Wilson. This means the passing of the government guarantee of $2.20 a bushel for wheat established during the war as a means of stabilizing the situation. Officials of the grain corporation believe the corporation had operated at a slight profit, but that the exact figures would not be known until the corporation had wound up its affairs.

STRONG DEMAND FOR OIL CAUSES PRICES TO SOAR

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Recent advances in the price of gasoline and other petroleum products were ascribed "more to varying conditions of supply and demand in the light of emphasized and pessimistic statements to the future supply than to a combination of cost of trade," by the federal trade commission tonight in a report to congress.

Strong demand is the primary cause of the higher prices, the commission said, adding that conditions in the oil trade now appear to be greatly improved with respect to production and imports.

GRAIN VALUES GO UP SHARPLY; SHORTS BUYERS

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Grain traders who sold freely Saturday in the belief that receipts over the double holiday would be large and cause a bad break were greatly disappointed. Receipts were small and there was heavy and persistent buying of corn by the same commission houses that absorbed the surplus in the pit on Saturday's early break.

There was a lack of pressure from the start. Short buyers had no time covering, and they held on a constantly advancing market. Corn made its lowest price at the start and the highest toward the last, finishing at a net gain of 5¢/4¢. Oats opened up with corn at 24¢/2¢. Barley, while rice was 24¢/4¢ higher and barley 24¢/4¢ higher.

Short orders were uncovered in corn the way up. Selling against offers checked the market. A wave of buying swept over the market just before the close, a report that the Supreme court had found the prohibition law unconstitutional, but the fact that it referred only to a phase of the Ohio situation failed to bring out much pressure.

Oats Acreage Cut.

Buying of oats was based on the strength in corn and on the private reports suggesting a reduction of around 2,000,000 acres for the new crop. There was lack of pressure throughout the day except against the offers. Crop reports were rather unfavorable, and local traders who spent the holidays in Indiana talked quite bullish.

Houses with seaboard connections were good buyers of rye, and with other grains, strong an advance was easily attained. Around 100,000 by July were exchanged by cash houses, presumably for export business. Sales of 10,000 or more were made to the east, truck, railroads, and general shipment guaranteed, and 44¢ over was paid for immediate f. o. b. New York. No. 2 on track sold 9¢ over May.

Barley in good demand and 2¢ higher, with maltings and shippers competing for the choicer kinds. Low grades slow.

Provisions Unsettled.

Lower prices for hams and good results induced moderate selling, while the decline in cured products earlier, while the advance in corn later brought strength and a rally. At the close lard was 24¢/2¢ lower, ribs 5¢/4¢ lower, and pork 1¢/2¢ lower to 5¢ higher. Cash trade was quiet. Export clearances last week were 22,772,000 lbs bacon and lard, against 91,870,000 lbs last year. Prices held.

CURB ON STRIKES SEEN IN SLOWING UP OF INDUSTRY

The slowing down of industry as a result of transportation difficulties, with manufacturing plants closing part time or closing down, is becoming more apparent, according to John J. Mitchell, chairman of the Illinois Trust banking group.

Mitchell, who has just returned from New York, yesterday summarized eastern opinion on industrial and financial conditions.

The present transportation difficulties are forcing manufacturers to adopt part time schedules or to close down in some cases. "This is the first time in five years when there has been a situation in this country where a workman thrown out of employment could not readily get another job, usually at higher wages.

Acts as Strike Brake.

"It is thought this situation may result in workmen not being quite so inconsistent on continuous wages as some ready to strike. Of course, the slowing down of industries hinders the manufacturers by reducing his output and his profits, but this loss is being divided between the employer and the employee. It seems to be the general idea that this slowing down is better than industry were to go ahead at top speed to a grand smash."

The financial situation in general is regarded as satisfactory. The increase in bank discount rates by the federal reserve banks was not unexpected and is a logical move. In fact, this should have been done long ago. The reserve banks' discount rate should always be equal to or above the open market rate in order to discourage the use of credit in real emergencies. If borrowing were penalized instead of a premium being put on it, there would be more real inducement to prevent credit inflation."

U. S. Losses on "Q" Line.

The federal railroad administration lost $6,478,886 in 1919 in operating the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, according to the annual statement made yesterday. Net income from federal operations was $25,831, which the government paid the company $33,260,883 for the use of the property. Net income from federal operations in 1918 was $27,587.

The company's net income, however, showed an increase of $749,971, owing to a decrease in lag-over, from previous years. The amount available for dividends, sinking funds, and surplus was equivalent to 31.24 per cent on the $110,839,100 capital stock compared with 20.85 per cent in 1918. Operating revenue increased $9,836,665, due chiefly to a gain in passenger revenue, and operating expenses increased $3,603,823. Nearly $7,000,000 was expended on improvements and equipment.

Comparison of Income.

The corporate income account, with comparisons, follows:

1919	1918
Standard return... $360,683	$353,360,683
Operating expenses and taxes... 2,625,677	2,585,724
Net operating income... 32,732,006	30,774,958

*Includes "lag-over" items credited and charged by federal administration.

The operating income of the Colorado and Southern railway for 1919 was $2,430,960, and net income, after deduction for investment and income charges, was $1,783,946, leaving an income balance of $1,605,946.
